

The New People

WEWUZKANGZ

Table of content-

- ★ INTRODUCTION.....4
- ★ Modern
Colonialism/Imperialism.....
....7
- ★ Modern imperialism/Neo-Colonialism..... 12
- ★ The system.....14
- ★ What we really need?.....20
- ★ Monarchy or democracy?.....23
- ★ Marxism and
futurism.....28
- ★ Our goal.....31
- ★ Agrarian critique.....33
- ★ The question of art.....37

- ★ The intellectual value.....39
- ★ The new people.....42

*“Burn the old grass and new will grow”
-Saloth sar*

INTRODUCTION

It is quite visual how our modern society has been corrupted by globalism, capitalism and individual ideals which are firmly poisoning our ethical lifestyle. We are more likely to be exploited its present era activity which making us more depressing and taking away from the sociopathic life. The culture, race, nations are firmly It destroyed or exploited by the modern market economy. The further conservations which were dedicated to defend the sociopathy now they are more likely betraying us leading further to destruction. Man is Losing its roots from the culture ethnicity and racial matters. Workers are being separated by the bourgeoisie dominators. They have lost their nations, their identity even their homestead. The post-modern capitalism has effectively poisoned ideologies with degeneracy.

Western civilization is boosting its liberal ideals to the world. Slightingly democracies are untrusted along the proletariat and the millennials. Slow motioned progress is not helping any advocacies and the unhealthy. Authority is standstill. Nations are being sold to the corporations. Human lives are worsening slowly. Poverty is haunted us by many ways. Our basic needs are slowly converting into expense. National identity has become untrusty among the masses. Present day reality is making us more depressed. Many of our thoughts are getting suicidal because we cannot merge among to sociopath.

Our basic livelihood is taken away from us. Our sense of culture and thoughts are far harder to be fictional. As long we live in a single individual state and culture, we may not find happiness and fulfill our fantasies. We may crush the old roots of the bourgeoisie civilization and create a new nation, society and identity. We will build a proletarian utopia and we shall defend it forever. The new society shall become the paradise of the Proletariats. This is our goal of our dream. The separated once will find its home. Our workers and revolutionary soldiers shall always bow to defend our proletarian state. The cult of degeneracy will forever end.

Our agrarian society will find its new way. Workers will become the masters.

We will destroy the banks, companies, corporations and the palaces.

Our sociopathic society will find its new hope. This shall be our permanent revolution and our destiny to our new future. The current system shall be perished.

We will lead an new order led by the

New people

Modern colonialism/imperialism:

We have seen the modern-day society how it has been compromised by the globalist ideology named capitalism. Capitalism is a far more ancient ideology which has been exploited our human lives since the 14th century. Thus, it was responsible for colonial rulership's, mass-genocide, exploitation and looting of resources. Since Westphalia treaty which has ended a long war in Europe the European empires started its quest for new lands, Goods, slaves and more other resources. The Spanish and Portuguese started their domination over the south American continent. Latin America was a gold wealthy nation which attracted more to the European trade world. The natives and their local culture were eliminated.

Christianity and the European culture were forced upon them. The Anglo and the far western settlers seek their colonial quest for the Asia and African continent. The British colonial imperialism had a better power over the planet.

They hath dominated over the south east and sub Eurasian continent. For profit they had to establish armies for trade and legalization of the trade. The British east Indian company used to sell opium, by the refusal of the Qing dynasty it brought 2 opium wars. The British colonialists seized Hong Kong as their colony. The British deployed Indian troops to crush the Qing army. After the British east crushed the Bengali nawab in 1757, they started to loot over the entire Indian nation. They destroyed the silk manufacture, forced to produce indigo. Aftermath Indian fell over a terrifying famine where 25 million Indians starved and died. Same path the French, Dutch, Spanish and Belgian colonizers forced their superiority upon their colonies. They wanted to force upon their cultural ethics over the colonies.

Their racial values did not seem equal to the Europeans. The looked black, brown and yellow meanwhile the Europeans looked white. The Belgians started to purge the Negroloids in Congo. King leopard became the most racist tyrant who was responsible for the deaths of 15 million Congolese people.

Until Congo became independent the native Congolese peoples were used as animals kept in zoos, hanged for grains, their children were taken away.

The Congolese resources were taken by the Belgian rulers for their economic needs. Still Congo still remains as a poor nation. It is still to be considered how colonialism puts a hoax over the national and cultural aspects. Many reasons colonialism had among the illiterate natives. Otherwise this thesis is not that necessary that colonialism somehow a positive and negative visual because it had brought some technical, scientific, educational and social reform brings progress. Many uncolonized nations such as Japan, Thailand and Russia they had one single thing in common, they were not colonized and still being the world's most wealthy nations. Thus, it is a hoax that without colonialism we cannot able to progress among many aspects. Indo-European, Asiatic, Aztec and Arab cultures have been more successful for the science, technology, culture and mythological beliefs. They had more advanced architecture and civilization even the Aztec and Asiatic societies were barbaric in the ancient world.

The Aztec culture was richer and wealthier but they were very brutal.

Human sacrifices were common things among the ancient Aztecs and the Chinese. Many reasons these cultures were barbaric but they had to be eliminated by the modern civilized world.

The human nature and its beliefs reform through the time. Whatever it is not proven that the colonialism brings progress. Isolationism is the only reason why progress becomes standstill.

Whenever it comes to many authoritarian regimes promoting isolation to keep their rulership for next decades it's not genially true that ancient civilizations isolated themselves in favor of defending their regimes. They had a general issue that they did not have any connections with other parts of the world, they remained uncontacted. Still many small tribes remain uncontacted in some parts of south Africa. So, it can be justified that progress does not need any help from colonial powers. Society can be far better without colonialism.

Modern Imperialism/Neo-colonialism:

A plague has been haunting the world since its beginning, plague of imperialism which has been stabbing nations since the beginning of 21st century. After the fall of the European colonialism the western society started to increase its influence in Arabs and Latin American nations. The modern neo-colonialism seems more secretive than the classic colonialism. Its more to be judged as internal parasite in human stomach sucking nutrition. In reality neo-colonial nations use puppet government to stronghold their influence. It is a sincere visualization the United states has been performing this act since its beginning. There are many countries where the US intervened for sake for more resources so they can keep their economy empowered. The United states still uses most of its national debt on military. The US imperialism often relies on military interventionism. Today USA owns about 800 military bases worldwide in their allied nations. In middle east the united states have intervened most of the sovereign nations for their oil reserves. In 2003 Iraq was invaded by the murderous US regimes in the name of liberation. Aftermath in 2011 Libyan revolutionary leader Muammer Gadhafi was assassinated by CIA intervention. The Arab or the middle east was led to wars since the Arab spring. Wars, terrorism and oil reservations are seemed to be common things in modern Arab world. The Latin American nations suffered the most of the cases of US backed coups since the operation condor. They targeted Latin America to purge the spread of communism. Many democratically elected presidents had to face coups by CIA. As example we can see Chilean president Salvador Allende who was betrayed by the military. Although the coup was formed by the Sanctions to the Chilean economy. Rest other forms of the reason why US needed military bases around worldwide

Is to defend the western market economy stable. In modern day Iraq many oil reserves are ran by many US fuel industries.

Meanwhile it was not possible for the private industries to intervene the oil without the military bases.

Still many second and the third world nations are suffering from neo-colonialism and the numbers are increasing.

The system:

It is our eternal foe

To understand capitalism, we must understand its root ideal.

Feudalism is seeming as the most ancient ideology. Based on ownership of the single individualists who were known as landlords. The landlords used to be individuals in a society. They had serfs working under them. It was an oppressive system that exploited our proletarian society since the dawn of medieval age.

The feudal system had casted upon serfs through their jobs. The farmers next generation remained farmers and the workers were workers.

The feudalists had their special elites seeking the activities of the serfs, known as the petite bourgeoisie. Many historical reasons they were much barbaric race to be known.

The postmodern market system merged from the old roots of feudalism ideology. The early stage of Human livelihood was communal and ran under communal collectivist tribal leadership. After the rise of civilization, the humans learned to trade. The rise of the commodity fetishism begins. Aftermath the fall of the medieval feudal system the caste system switched its identity to class. Many national interest's which are dedicated for the public welfare have become far more corrupt and still betrays the workers. Trade unions which were dedicated for the workers welfare are now ran by the political parties. And thus, the trade union are turning untrusty for the cause of corrupt rulers. Many international corporations are now making a chance using the term charity like the Jew Soros.

The multinational corporations are trying to seek over the poor countries for workforce. Natural resources are being taken away due to cheap labor. In the same way the countries in African continent are the primary target for the multinational companies and corporations. Even being a resource rich continent Africans still suffer from hunger, poverty and malnutrition. The Africa was always been a primary target for its geographical reasons. Many wars and sanctions were funded to Africa by the global superpowers. Like the RUF was funded by the diamond industries. As we compare to many Asian nations which are seen to be rich most of them don't have any resources. Like Japan it mostly relies on automobile industry and Hong Kong lives through re-exports.

Still Africa is far more behind due to low intelligence and Western and European frauds.

As the current market economy needs to boost the individual fraud increases among the right-wing social media. The neo-liberal and market political organizations blame socialism for their own mistakes. They never tell the truth about the socialist states. They keep telling the lies about horrors of socialist nations. They never mention the truth about the progress which were made under socialist nations. Even the effect of the red scare made the both left and right forced to defend the terms of anti-communism. Like the many modern western left-wing organizations do nothing for the workers but oppressing them. The root of lumpen-liberalism and identity politics has taken roots among the wannabe socialists. The modern left does nothing but seeking safe places and hardcore internet censorship. Now days socialism has become billionaire ideology where the rich people like Elon muck and Bill gates has already claimed themselves as socialists.

Even the left today is not valued by anyone. The leftists are seen as highly degenerates. They don't vow to defend trade unions or the workers instead they fight for the prostitutes, homosexuals, degenerates and the immigrants. They only believe that they are most valuable than the workers and their nations.

Even being the minorities, they only treat them well rather than both conservative and progressive workers.

The most of the left today is filled with LGBTQ and the other degenerates. Hilariously they target those who they disagree with but they don't target bankers and the billionaires. They blame white patriarchal males with the cult of penis removal and gay bum sex.

We know these as the SJW or the social justice warriors who are known as radical liberals.

The cosmopolitan chauvinism is taking away our rights to exist. Our freedom is taken away by the degenerates and the radical liberals. As long as these SJW bastards live we won't be able to live in an actual human society.

the money is the greatest of all tranny. It is the God above all aspects. Money ruins our lives due to competition. To order to be wealthy man has become the machines of the market system. We are only raised a one single purpose since the childhood to be the slaves of the banknotes. Thus, those who owes more becomes the most powerful above all and those who are unable they become poor. The Money is the master above all.

This systematic issue may remain for another thousands of years. We may not know what comes beyond our future. We may seek ourselves a better world but we can't.

We lie ourselves about what will would be gained by ourselves.

Our thoughts about the society may different.

Because we are made different by it.

What we really need?

As our pathetic lives hath become the foe to our former turmoil of life. The system is our primary target. We shall always remain dogmatic against everything even its right or wrong. People in every hemisphere are always rude to us. We remain ignorant through all. The world is ruled by the Money rather than us. Let them disagree to our opinions.

We may liberate the world which is the wasteland of the strive and the war. We will exterminate the old bourgeois world. We will end the globalism and cosmopolitanism. We will always vow to fight the imperialism.

The sense of the old capitalism will once again fear the red dawn.

We shall demolish the banks exterminate the currency.

We will stop the spread of the plague named radical-liberalism and Capitalism.

We shall remember we are the descendants of the workers and the peasants. Our forefathers had worked hard to create a better society.

Through the drop of the workers blood and sweat our civilization was born.

We shall not let the bourgeoisie to reclaim it to themselves.

Our beloved country is made by the will of our hardworking ancestors. Not by the bloodthirsty petite bourgeoisie degenerates. We shall not seek the past or the present, we shall march through futurism.

Our revolutionary soldiers will march with red flag of the labor in the battlefield.

Our foes will perish within the dawn of the socialism.

We stage a war the world for a new society. We never die until our blood doesn't shed.

We want justification for our sacrifices.
We shed our blood boiling among the busk of sunrays.¹

Monarchy or democracy?

Both monarchies and democracies had been two polar opposites since the dawn of the civilization.

The monarchy is known as the most ancient rulership. Before the bronze era, human lived through tribal system under the rule of the chieftain. The strongest one in the tribe becomes the chieftain and orders everything under his leadership.

1

Later man learned agriculture, built houses, nourished animals and discovered steel. The civilization was born. All ancient civilizations ran under the rule of the monarchy, the most vicious ruling system of all.

We may consider monarchy as the enemy of the modern society. The monarchy had been the most exploiting ideology rather than fascism and capitalism. From the bronze era, monarchy led to more bloodshed than the twenty first century. The emperors searched for quest of more lands and slaves.

The feudal system and monarchy divided many through their descendants. The monarchs only seeded to comfort themselves otherwise exploiting the serfs.

The monarchs rather used to be masterminds of the society. The ancient Egyptians worshiped their king like gods.

In Russian empire the fellow tsars were worshipped as saint or idol.

The monarchy used religion as their main tool of superstitions to ensure their serfs to obey themselves.

The medieval era was recognized as the most horrifying and the deadliest timeline in the human history.

The free thinkers were persecuted for disobeying the church or the religion. The caste system was a main aspect during that era. The Jews were no able to live in villages. The sweepers were merely untouched. Otherwise disobeying any law could mean being stripped off skin or rolled on a wheel.

The women with slight abnormal behavior were accused as witches in medieval France and burned alive in public.

As though we must consider monarchy is the enemy of the people and the society. After all the monarchy staged to get itself doomed on the end of medieval era.

The French revolution was the first people's revolution in the history that staged a coup against the monarchy. The aftermath the democracy started its journey to establish a new society. The term democracy was first introduced by the Greek philosopher Aristotle. Later to many it was criticized as the philosophy of the useless by many philosophers despised it such as Socrates. Later ancient Greece became the first nation to conduct democracy but the slaves and the woman were not allowed to vote.

But the term democracy did not succeed through the medieval age due to monarchy and the feudal dictatorship.

As many revolutionaries practiced democracy in demand of the new society against the monarchy. Like Dr Sun Yat Sen fought the Qing dynasty with the unity of the people and the both along his revolutionary KMT and the communists. The Lenin and his Bolshevik party were vastly popular among the people of great Russia. The Cuban revolution was also a great example of proletariat democracy.

The democracy is the first stance of the proletarian revolution. The liberal democracy is the apologist of the tranny. The true democracy is against the liberalism.

We must practice the term of Mao Zedong's theory of the combat liberalism.

All the individuals are our eternal enemy. The liberal democracy is one of the parts of individualism. Liberalism vows to defend the individuals. It gives shelter to the revisionist and highly reactionary ideals.

As I explained how is the system is suppressed by the system named Liberalism it can be closely judged as the form of right-wing conspiracy called cultural Marxism. As I forcefully had to vow for a right-wing conspiracy as I visualized the internet political commentary.

As other reason the rest of the political quadrant is filled with the same cult of identity politics.

Thus, focusing on liberalism, we must commit radicalism to fulfill a utopian society.

To achieve democracy, we must promote extremism.

Marxism and futurism:

The both Marxism and futurism has many similar ideals if we judge its thesis's and ideology.

On the Marxian interest it relies that the egalitarian society needs a permanent revolution to be established.

As many of Marx's theory there is a term named historical materialism. The early stage of society was egalitarian. Later Currency made man more individual for fetishism.

As other satisfaction industrial society is exploiting the modern human society.

As long the industrial revolution made society worsen gave birth of their idea of an egalitarian system. The nations needed more wealth in demand of power.

We must define what we shall do.

To establish peace, we must target all first world nations. The first world countries are hardcore imperialist. They exploit our national identity and people.

To be concerned to our main subject we must end the current old and the post-modern world if we needed futurism.

The old and the modern cult of society is highly degenerate and individual along promoting cosmopolitan system. To build socialism we must destroy all forms of individual system. Individualism is the enemy of the system. As other point of the modern market system had to reform through the pressure of the trade unions which the capitalist claim they did themselves.

As we need to view what are the point view of the revolutionary Marxist and futurist ideals-

- The revolutionary Marxist ideals are mostly based on the socio-economic structure dependent on both historical and dialectical materialism.

- The futurism rejects all forms of classical conservative values and it also opposes the cult of neo-liberal and lumpen thesis.
- The futurist ideology may have similarities with technicism and transhumanism while it might reject or accept both policies.
- The Marxist values are also influenced by the critics of early and the modern market system.
- The Marxism is against any form of the currency system which is against an egalitarian society. In simple term Marxism is anti-currency.
- In Marxist theory the peasants merge themselves to urbanite live due to the dense of poor living conditions comparing the cities.

Our goal-

To resolve the society, we must follow the term of Marxian socialism, futurism, agrarianism, third world and proletarian nationalist theories.

As the point of view, we may need some achievements for our goal through government planning. Our constitutional methods are firmly based on mostly proletarian and socialist values.

The state must offer what they would need for the welfare of the citizens. Our political revolution defends the ideals of the proletariat society. World must determine how capitalism is ruining its virtues. We must be more concern about the world how its former social and cultural essence was much better than before. We must remember the market system rather needs reform or the permanent replacement.

- Demolition of Currency system. We must seek alternative forms of authorized trading to prevent corruption.
- Make healthcare and education universal and free to everyone. Legalize Homosexuality and offer free Hormone injections and gender change surgeries.
- Make military services compulsory. Increase budget on military.
- Make job opportunities for all adult citizens.
- Establish an workers and peasant militia to defend socialist ideals and themselves from the capitalists.
- Make sure to focus on agrarian progress rather than industrial. To flee neo-colonialism, we need to adjust our economy to autarky.
- Nationalize high scale resources and demolish private property.

- Offer communal and free housing to all.

Thus, aftermath the socio-economic and cultural reforms may have been achieved with more proletarian autocracy.

On Agrarian critique:

We must choose to return to our agricultural interest's rather than merging into industry at the first stage of revolution. We shall focus to ensure the fulfillment consumer system rather than focusing on economic wealth.

On other reason we can assume how many theocratic measurements ignore the fact that the peasant class is not focused while they are more likely to be exploited. They are the early stage of wealth supplement of the needs of the workers and the millennials. To be more concerned that the fact that the agrarian trusts are not meant to be domestic virtue but it can be a multicultural.

As example we have modern day China which is most food producing nation in the world.

The Chairman Mao Zedong made an inevitable success to improvise the china's agriculture by using modern technique and equipment. The Saloth sar and the Angkar used agriculture as a powerful tool against the neo-colonialism. To be more honest for the economic and the social consumer reasons, we may have an option to use the industrial essence.

We shall rather to inappropriately the values of the hyper industrialization. If we can rehybridize the industrial system through the indigenous path it may bring success to gain complete autarky and liberation from neo-colonialism.

For other perspective inhabits to maintain the cult of collectivism agriculture can become an ultimate tool. For external observations it won't able to require any forms of argument or criticism. The agriculture can assure the basic needs of goods to our revolutionary and the working-class citizens. To lead a complete path to liberation of our nation we must not allow hyper industrialization at the first stage.

The modern industrial system creates numerous hazards to our ecologic and health strategy.

Our point of view is not to destroy the industrial system but to reform its virtues into alternative form that can bring wealth or better livelihood to both society and the civic terms which can help to offer potential and basic diversity.

What can be seen today the liberal and the bourgeoisie system ruining the practice of the agriculture by fueling the usage of bourgeoisie means of productivity.

They slowly reduce the usage of manpower and leading a path to unemployment and exploitation. More likely to be concerned due to usage of artificialism our basic needs of consumer needs are being poisoned. The market system needs to breed corruption for the profit.

Tons of frozen foods in USA are being dumped in garbage while rest of the world starves.

We have experienced in those past decades

How technology is leading a way to worse position. The potato's we had seen bigger in last decades now taste like chemical.

Usage of formalin is generating mutations. Hundreds of farming fields are being overtaken by estate companies. Food stocks cost high in market.

Let's face it, what is making society worse?

Modern capitalist Industrialism

Or traditional collective Agriculture?

The question of art:

Most of the art in today's capitalist society is shaped by decadence. The artist Marcel Duchamp took it to the extreme at the large exhibition of the Society of Independent Artists in New York's Grand Central Palace in April 1917, when he exhibited a commercially available urinal as a work of art. In this obvious madness the arrogance of the upper class was clearly showing. The idea behind this is that we, the working class, are too stupid to see the true genius in this, but they, the subtle and noble, they understand it.

It's pseudo-art whose sole purpose is to stand out from the working class in the most vulgar, bizarre, and decadent way. Classified as such, there is no place for it in future society. Rather, art should return to a proletarian motif, as we see it in socialist realism. Because what justification does art have if it does not speak to the people? What is art worth if it does not inspire the worker to do a great deed? What use is art if it doesn't tell a story? And it should be our story. It should elevate and glorify the proletariat. Human genius and the beauty of the spirit should permeate a work of art. It should be dedicated to the people, belong to the people and correspond to their character and spirit.

The intellectual value:

We may need to know the at first who are the intellectual society?

An intellectual is a person who engages in critical thinking, research, and reflection about the reality of society, and proposes solutions for the normative problems of society, and thus he or she gains authority as a public intellectual. And the group of the intellectuals are considered those people of who search not only Science and Ideologies but also Realism and thoughts. They search knowledge through many groups of aspects such as religion, culture, social structure, science, arts, and other important necessary aspects of the modern world.

How did 'intellectuals' evolve from a class of subjects in Marxian thoughts to highly visible populations under communism? Such 'reifications of the intellectual' have deeply affected subjectivity, conflict and organization, but received little attention in the political sociology of communism. This subject draws on research on classifications and social boundaries to address the objective and subjective foundations of the reifications and their impact on communist rule. The intellectual is viewed as an identification formed and performed around multiple social axes (most notably family background, educational achievement, occupational history, institutional affiliation and revolutionary rank) that reflected broader patterns of communist political domination. I use the Chinese Communist movement to demonstrate that

- interaction of political contests, ruling strategies and institutional developments turned a diversity of persons into 'intellectuals' who were allegedly imbued with reprehensible interests and habits linked to privileged economic classes;
- constant competitions for power and organizational changes led to classificatory ambiguities and, in turn, allowed individuals some control over their identifications;

and

- the developments profoundly influenced identity, state and class formation. Focusing on the dynamics that produced a highly visible but fluid population of 'intellectuals' opens new pathways for comparative research on communism.

What can be the main strategy of the modern intellectualism?

To preserve the facts that that the science and wisdom to be considered as the main source of present-day civilization or the cult of competition that we have still practiced from the early stage of human civilization.

Comparing the historical and modern intellectuals they would rather seek for beneficients of the human lives. But visualizing the modern intellectuals we see the fact they uphold and carry nihilist values. What can be seen competition has become the only key that has become major issue for the modern intellectualism. Although anti-intellectualism is becoming more variable in the modern political and socio-educational aspects.

New people:

Whom do we recognize as new people?

Those who are free from the bourgeois exploitation.

Whom are the new people?

Those who remain loyal to his egalitarian society.

What is the purpose of the New people?

Destroy the old society and rebuild a better one. Demolish the old cult of capitalism and establish socialist proletarian world.

Who is the enemy of the new people?

The privilege bourgeoisie society, Class traitors, Globalists, imperialists, liberal cosmopolitans, the feudalists, degenerates, merchants, fascists, reactionaries.

Who is the friend of new people?

The workers, peasants, proletariat revolutionaries,
the exploited people.

“A revolution is not a dinner party, or writing an essay, or painting a picture, or doing embroidery; it cannot be so refined, so leisurely and gentle, so temperate, kind, courteous, restrained and magnanimous. A revolution is an insurrection, an act of violence by which one class overthrows another.”

— Mao Tse-tung